

NANCY CHARTIER

Nancy Chartier is an actor and has worked in the film industry for over 30 years, and has worked with some amazing people. She is the marketing director of Random Order Entertainment, as well as an active member of the DPA and Women in Film.

An acting coach with R.E.A.C.T. since 1995, many of her students can be seen on television and the big screen;

Hunter Parrish in the critically acclaimed 'Weeds': series regular

Jake McDorman in 'Die Hard 4' and on 'Greek': series regular Jennifer Stone in "The Wizards of Waverly Place: series regular.

January 2008, Nancy coached on set for the feature film "Imposter", bringing Grammy winners Kerri Livgren from 'Kansas' and 'Kevin Max' from DC Talk to a believable, natural, first time performance.

A co-writer with Greg Mansur and Keith Duncan on the feature "Billy the Kid", she is also enjoying the developmental process of producing a television show. Nancy has been writing scenes and monologues for actors and is currently working on publishing them through 'Double Roads' publishing company.

In 2007, she thoroughly enjoyed her directorial debut at the 24 hour video race, Hollywood division, placing third. The result can be seen at www.randomorder.net 'demos' - "Every Time a Bell Rings".

Nancy has guest lectured at Collin County Community College, as well as Richland Community College, Texas Christian University and Southern Methodist University. She won 'Volunteer of the Year' at the Letot Center teaching acting to runaway and troubled teens in 1987 and '88.
